Dear Fengping,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee for the International Congress of Plant Pathology 2018 (ICPP2018), we would like to extend an invitation for you to attend the 2018 ICPP conference in Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A. More than 2,000 attendees are expected to attend this five-day scientific meeting, which will be held July 29 – August 3, 2018 at the Hynes Convention Center in Boston. We hope you will join us as we cover our science of plant pathology in a variety of formats including special sessions, plenaries, concurrent sessions, field trips, workshops, and posters. In addition, industry attendees will showcase their latest products and services available to you.

We invite you to join us in Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A. All of the Congress' sessions and programs are open scientific events. The Organizing Committee of ICPP2018 welcomes all persons who are interested in the science, who pay the necessary registration fees, and otherwise conform to the standards of the Congress. The Congress is announced to the scientific community through publications, promotions, and the website at www.icpp2018.org.

The ICPP2018 does not provide financial support to meeting participants unless they have been awarded travel funds from the Congress' bursary application process which is now closed. The registration fee, airfare, ground transportation, hotel, meals, travel insurance, and any other local expenses are the responsibility of each meeting participant. If you need to apply for a temporary non-immigrant visa to attend the Congress, you are advised to apply for your visa as soon as possible and not later than 3-4 months in advance. All applicants must be able to qualify for a visa on their own merits. The Congress cannot intervene with embassies in other countries on behalf of any meeting participants, but you may submit this letter with your visa application to verify the name, dates, location, and purpose of the Congress. You may also take your registration confirmation paperwork to your visainterview.

However, ICPP2018 will not be able to provide additional visa support nor will any representative of ICPP call or generate personal letters to the embassy or consulate.

We look forward to your participation in the 2018 International Congress of Plant Pathology.

Sincerely,

Rick Bennett
